

Interested in organizing a Sunday School workshop?

Thank you for your interest in hosting a Sunday School workshop! Taking the time to prayerfully ponder and nurture the depth and healing power of the Manual provision for Sunday School is a blessing for anyone and everyone.

TMC Youth is striving to support Sunday Schools by:

- Maintaining contact with members and churches and societies via emails, phone calls, letters, and conversations on the online discussion forums on our website, www.tmcyouth.com;
- Developing, providing, and highlighting online resources for Sunday School from multiple sources, including members of The Mother Church in the field;
- Hosting live chats and interviews on topics important to Sunday School with students, teachers, and superintendents around the world;
- Supporting two types of Sunday School workshops in the field:
 - 1) Cohosting workshops held in full partnership with branch churches and including staff members from TMC Youth. These workshops are intended for larger regions and audiences.
 - 2) Do-it-yourself workshops where TMC Youth provides a framework for the workshop, supports the local organization and presentation teams, but does not attend. These workshops are for any and every branch church and society.

No matter what the size of the workshop or sponsoring branch is, TMC Youth will provide:

- Introductory documents: to help kick off the planning and decision-making process;
- Explanatory documents: to help organizers and presenters understand how the workshop can meet the needs of the whole community, including teachers, staff, students, church members, attendees, parents, and those new to the Christian Science Sunday School;
- Logistical documents: to point out issues to consider and steps to take and to explain the roles of local team members;
- Content documents: a sample agenda, a PowerPoint slide show with citations and videos to supplement local presentations, and documents for attendees' information packets.
- Note: none of these materials are available in print format—they are only available electronically. Please print them out as needed.

If you would like to organize any type of workshop:

Please be sure to register your interest as soon as possible with the TMC Youth Sunday School activities team. That will enable your church or society to benefit from contact with others sponsoring workshops and from the support and training available through TMC Youth.

With love,

The TMC Youth Sunday School activities team
